That Quart-Shop Law.

The Supreme Court of Indiana cannot hold the quart-shop law operative without violating its own precedents and ruling contrary to a well settled rule of construction.

I see that Mr. Nicholson and some others claim that the law is effective by reason of a section of the criminal code (Section 2000, Revised Statutes of 1881), which provides as follows: "Whoever, by himself or agent, transacts any business or does any act cense is required by any law of this State, the following reasons: The quart-shop law is merely an amendment of Sections 1, 5 and 7 of the act of March 17, 1875, which is section stand practically as it did before.

Now, the original liquor law of March 17, 1875, and the penalty section, both original and as amended, are special acts, no matter whether the penalty clause be defective or otherwise, and Section 2000. Revised Statutes of 1881, of the criminal code above.

The same question has practically been settled by two decisions of the Supreme Court with respect to these two identical sections of the statute, to-wit: Section 5320, Revised Statutes of 1881 (Section 5 of the act of March 17, 1875, and the same Section 5 amended by the quart-shop law) and Section 2090 (Revised Statutes of 1881) of the criminal code. In the case of Walter vs. the State (105 Ind., 589, Page 592) the court says: "The statutes of this State on the subject of the sale of intoxicating liquors have always been, as they still are, special and exceptional. Section 5320 is consequently not inconsistent with or repealed

FOREIGN WAR NEWS ASSISTS THE BEARS IN THEIR RAIDS.

The Money Market Has Little to Encourage the Leaders-Local Trade Highly Unsatisfactory.

At New York Saturday money on call was nominally 1%@1% per cent.

Prime mercantile paper, 31/204 per cent. Sterling exchange was strong, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.87%@4.88 for demand and at $4.861/4@4.861/2 for sixty days; posted rates, $4.86\204.87 and $4.880 4.88%; commercial bills, $4.85%.

Bar silver, 62c; Mexican dollars, 481/2c; silver certificates closed at 62/4621/2c. The exports of specie from the port of New York for the week were: Gold, $10,-000; silver, $964,560. The imports were: Gold, $4,942; silver, $48,523; dry goods, $3,679,306; general merchandise, $8,596,555. The money market still offers little encouragement to those who lead it. Call loans have been made at 11/4 during the week, which is a new record. The exchange situation offers some apparent contradictions which are hard to reconcile. The price of exchange continues to harden, the demand rate for actual business reaching $4.87% @4.88 on Saturday. This is in the face of recent lowering of the Bank of England's minimum rate of discount to 21/2 per cent, and an open market rate in London of considerably less than half that, The foreign trade statement for March issued last week also shows the trade balance maintained in our favor by a large increase in exports, in spite of the increase imports, the excess of exports reaching $19,000,000. The increase in the price of sterling exchange is difficult to account for the face of these conditions. Gold continues to be shipped to Japan and Austria from London, though without appreciable effect on the monetary situation there. The New York weekly bank statement shows the following changes: Reserve, increase $796,,850 Loans, increase 1,457,600

The banks now hold $46,866,900 in excess of the requirements of the 25-per-cent. rule. The New York Financier says: "According to the statement issued by the Associated Banks of New York city for the week ending April 17, the clearing-house institutions gained $1,532,500 in cash and increased their deposits $2,942,600. As loans expanded $1,475,600, the change in the deposit item agrees closely with the expansion in the other totals. The gain in cash, however, was not as large as the movement of the week had indicated. The flow of funds to this center has been unusually heavy during the past few days, and, despite the increase of one and one-half millions in loans, the reserve is larger than at the close of business one week ago. It is not improbable that the loan increase represents the business of that period, as the demand for money is now at a low ebb and rates are establishing new records especially in the call-loan branch. A matter of some moment just at present is the course of foreign exchange. If the demand for gold on the part of Japan and Austria continues, there is a strong probability that specie will be exported from the United States. The present exchange quotations are under the shipping point, but the drain on the Bank of England has resulted in a net loss of gold to that insti-tution of not less than $10,000,000 within the past week, and there is nothing to indicate that it will abate to any extent soon. The movement from the United States, if gold is actually exported, will not be on account of trade conditions here, but will reflect, rather, the change in the Japanese monetary standard and the war preparations in Europe. The domestic situation does not warrant exports at the present time, al- respects factors which affect financial conthough continued importations of merchan-heavy volume may reduce our foreign balances materially. Total sales of stocks to-day were 74,600 shares, including the following: American Tobacco, 4,700; American Sugar, 6,200; Burlington & Quincy, 8,600; Chicago Gas trust receipts, 15,600; St. Paul, 7,006.

STOCKS ON THE DECLINE. The tendency of prices downward Saturday on New York 'Change was only interrupted for very brief periods, and no rallies of any importance occurred. The market was uninteresting and very duli, being a short trading day and coming after a holiday. The fact that the foreign exchanges were closed and would remain so until Tuesday also had its effect on curtailing operations. The market was narrow and the small dealings wholly professional, and, in the specialties, largely manipulative. The international stocks continued to manifest heaviness, notwithstanding the closing of the London Exchange, dealers in New York relying on their own private advices as to war prospects abroad and some sales of these stocks being made deals for London account. The rise in the price of wheat was interpreted on the Stock Exchange as presaging a belligerent outcome to the dis- sential element of political support. pute in southwestern Europe. This was used as a bear argument, the price of railroad stocks moving contrary to the price of wheat, as has been the case in connection with war news with Europe recently on several occasions. The grangers are usually the exception, and Burlington advanced a small fraction at one time and suffered a smaller net decline than the other grangers. St. Paul suffered from the showing of a loss of $86,343 in its estimated gross earnings for the second week in April, and Northwest and Omaha manifested a weakness common to the other Vanderbilt stocks. There was a falling off in activity in Sugar, and very narrow fluctuations in its price. Chicago Gas continued to be the center of activity in the markets, but its fluctuations were without significance other than professional, the price receding in the face of ouying by the interests that have uniformly been credited with acting for insiders. Missouri Pacific enjoyed a period of gain at the opening, but afterward succumbed a point, scoring a net loss on the day. Losses on the day reached a point in Tobacco, of in New York Central, % in Northwest, Susquehanna preferred, Tennessee Coal and Iron and % in Rock Island, Omaha & St. Paul. Adams Express rose 11/2 in the final lealings on light purchases. The market for stocks has been dull durhave resulted in a decline in the price of railroad stocks reaching an average of 1 to 2 points and in industrial stocks of 1 to 21/2 points. Burlington was an exception railroad list and closed the week 1/8 higher than last Saturday night. The grangers as a group enjoyed some advantages over the general railroad list, the threatening aspect of foreign affairs and the strength in the wheat market being rather in their favor. Although the general list of stocks responds unfavorably to warlike news from abroad, on the ground that all property would suffer in value from the resulting disorganization of credits, the belief is general in Wall street that the value of property generally in America would increase ultimately in the event of war The decline on the week has been accompanied by an almost stagnant condition of trading, the market having awakened into a spasmodic activity on only one due to the short week with the Good Friday nterim and the foreign exchanges continuing closed on Saturday. This had the effect of discouraging trading on the days preceding, the transactions on Thursday ing largely confined to evening up con-The duliness and the heaviness which it accentuated had the effect of nullifying one of two factors which were looked to hopefully to broaden the demand for Prices have been more or less dominated all week by the reflected depression from the London exchange, where not only the Eastern question was a depressing influence, but also the demoralization in the Kaffir securities and the whispers of financial embarrassment of their leading pro-

EFFECT OF THE FRAUDS The revelations that have been made of fraudulent transactions by bogus brokers and of the astounding dimensions of the busines done by "sure thing" advertisers has been a somewhat depressing influence on business, so far as outside inquiry is concerned, and the Stock Exchange authorities, as well as those of the Consolidated Exchange, are earnestly co-operating with the federal authorities to put a stop to the nefarious business, in the interest of legitimate speculation in stocks. These elements of duliness left the market narrow and al-

The effect on prices and on the tone of the market of the New York Central bonding operation, announced on Wednesday, was disappointing to those who had drawn a parallel in their minds with the Lake Shore operation and its results. The Lake Shore issue of $50,000,000 at 3½ per cent. interest was followed by such an improvement in prices and tone and such a broad-ening of demand as had not been witnessed for many months, and was only stopped, while yet at full speed, by the announcement of the transmissouri decision of the Supreme Court. Then New York Central refunding was practically a toregone conclusion from that time and as a matter of fact the stock enjoyed about a ten-point advance since then. The possibilities of refunding in other properties have also been thoroughly canvassed and the advantages pretty well discounted. In addition to this the size of the New York Central issue, $100,000,000, in addition to $12,000,000 for the Harlem proprietary branch, and the fact that $15,000,000 is to be used for new construction after 1903 caused some fears that the advantages to accrue to the stock by reduction of fixed charges had been over-Nevertheless the reaction in New York Central after the formal announcement of the contract for the sale of the bonds was a disappointment to the traders, the more so as it extended to the other Vanderbilts by sympathy. The bond market displayed but little feature during the week, and prices generally eased off, with the international issues showing the widest recessions. The losses were largely restricted to fractions, although a few mortgages registered sharp gains. The sales were $3,976,000.

The result of the national vote was to veto free coinage and provide an interval of four years for the further exposure of that danger and for devising means for the final adjustment of the money question upon a sound and money question upon a sound and wholesome basis. This week the President has appointed a commission to make proposals to the European governments with a view to reaching a settlement of this disturbing element through the creation of a system of international bimetallism. At present it would be premature to say what are the chances for bringing about another convention, or of such a convention agreeing upon a plan of international co-operation; but even should neither be accomplished, the effect will be a large contribution towards a final disposal of our own silver question, for the failure would deprive the silver party of its most conservative and influential element, the intelligent bimetallists, and composed of free-coinage advocates pure and simple, that faction would stand more than ever discredited be-"In the broader monetary question-the reconstruction of our paper-money systemthe drift is toward a careful and thorough consideration of the whole problem. The action of the executive and of Congress in this matter may not have been so prompt or so definite as to satisfy the more zealous any serious misgivings as to the readiness of the administration to bring this question to the front so soon as matters deemed more immediately important have been disposed of. Whether the question may be approached through the appointment of a commission of experts, or directly by the independent action of Congress, is comparatively immaterial. If the reform is to be initiated through a commission, there ing congressional action; and, even then, Congress might be expected to follow the recommendations of the commission only so far as its proposals might agree with their existing preconceptions. But, in any case, the taking up of this question for legislation is probably only a matter of a few months. The administration and Congress fully comprehend the supreme importance which the best public opinion of the country attaches to this issue, and undue postponement of superficial treatment of it is simply inconceivable, partisan misrepresen-

The prohibition of county aid to any individual, association, company or corporation is held, in Lancey vs. King county (Wash. 34 L. R. A., 817), to be inapplicable to county aid to a canal through the county constructed by the State or United States. A candidate for a presidential elector is held entitled to but one place on an official ballot, in State, Blydenburgh, vs. Burdick (Wyo. 34 L. R. A., 845), under statutes which provide for no party headings or columns, but require the ballot to name the party or principle represented by a candidate in connection with his name. The frightening of a mule caused by the usual noise incident to the running of a street car by electricity, without any unnecessary noise for the purpose of scaring the animal, is held, in Doster vs. Charlotte Street-railroad Company (N. C. 34 L. R. A., 481), not to make the street-railway company liable for the resulting damages.

The sale of laudanum as a beverage to a married woman knowing that it is destroying her mind and body and causing loss to her husband, when continued after his repeated warnings and protests, is held, in Holleman vs. Harward (N. C. 34 L. R. A., 803), to render the seller liable to the husband for damages sustained by the loss of

An adopted child is held, in Hartwell vs. Tefft (R. I. 34 L. R. A., 500), to be the "lawful issue" of the adopting parents within the meaning of a will making a gift to lawful issue where the statute puts such child on the same footing as if born of such parents in lawful wedlock, except that he shall not take property expressly limited to the heirs of their bodies. A bond to insure the fidelity of a certain firm of persons as agents is held, in Standard Oil Company vs. Arnestad (N. D. 34 L. R. A., 861), to be operative as security for the acts of the members of a firm only so long as they constitute a partnership, and not to cover the act of one of them after the partnership was dissolved, although the obligee did not know of the dissolution. The mere fact that a passenger was injured while attempting to pass from one car to another while the train was in motion was held, in McAfee vs. Huldekoper (D. C. App. 34 L. R. A., 720), insufficient to raise a presumption of his negligence. The authorities on this question or the negligence of a passenger in passing from one car to another are compiled in the annota-The utmost care to keep the insulation of dangerous electric wires perfect at places where people have a right to go for work, business or pleasure is held necessary in McLaughlin vs. Louisville Electric-lighting Company (Ky. 34 L. R. A., 812), although at other places very great care may be deemed sufficient. And the fact that the insulation of the wires is very expensive or incon venient is no excuse for failure to make it perfect at points where people have a right to go for work, business or pleasure. Habitual intemperance within the meaning of a statute authorizing a divorce for such cause is held, in Dennis vs. Dennis (Conn. 34 L. R. A., 449), not to be shown by proof of intexication about once in three weeks during the evening to such an extent that the person did not go as usual to his work the next morning and that this conduct had continued for about two years. but had not caused loss of position nor produced want or suffering in the family. With the case are compiled the numerous decisions on drunkenness as affecting divorce. Fraud in receiving a deposit of checks or drafts after bank officials knew that it was insolvent is held, in Bruner vs. First National Bank (Tenn. 34 L. R. A., 532), insurficient to give the depositor a preferential claim against assets in the hands of a receiver of the bank if the bank, before its failure, had received the proceeds of such paper or credit therefor from a correspondent, although the bank had on hand when it failed and always after the deposits were made more than the amount thereof

WHEAT JUMPED UP 41-8C

FOREIGN DEMAND STRONG AND PRICES ADVANCED TO 73 3-4C.

Corn and Oats Felt the Influence of Wheat to a Small Extent-Provisions Advanced Slightly.

CHICAGO, April 17.-This was one of the record-breaking days in the wheat market. That article closed, after an exciting day's business, at an advance of 4%c on the price it left off at Thursday. The heaviest and most successful of the local speculators in the business were on the buying side, and shorts were caught and padly squeezed. Other grain markets and provisions were comparatively dull. The strength of wheat came almost entirely from abroad. Wheat was weak for about three minutes at the start, but soon got over that, and "strong," if applied to its subsequent condition, would hardly describe it. It became excited for a few minutes at a time on several occasions. May and July futures started within 4c of each other, but as the rise in price which followed the weak start was approaching its climax May shot %c or more ahead of July, which gave rise to the idea that shorts in the former month were more numerous than had been supposed. May opened at from 69%c down to 69%c, as compared with 69%c at the close of Thursday's session. It acted in an uncertain way for a few minutes at around the prices named, and then commenced a struggle for the meager offerings, which in a little more than a quarter of an hour from the start here advanced May to 71%c and July to 711/2c. At the bottom of the reasons for the advance was undoubtedly the bad accounts from the country about winter wheat prospects, but a stronger and more direct cause at the moment was the reports received from New York that foreigners were heavy buyers of wheat there, They were said to be taking both spot wheat and futures, and their inquiries for the cash article extended to Chicago, New York sales for export were reported at thirty-five boat loads, some at an advance of 1s per quarter, equivalent to about 31/30 424,000 bushels. Fairly large as those sales are, they fail to account for the utter furor of traders in the pit to get hold of the offerings as the day progressed. May was chiefly in demand, but July kept after it toward the close at a discount of about 1/2c per bushel. May sold from 71%c back to 71c, which was the reaction after the first swell. After it rose again to 72c, it had a second down turn to 71%c, but following that the reactions were slight and its progress toward still higher prices persistent and irresistible. It rose in the end to 73%c for May, and that was the price at the close. Corn partook but slightly in the bullishness of wheat, and it is not unlikely, judging by the readiness with which it responded to the opening weakness in that article, that the market would have declined had not wheat been so sensationally strong. The improvement in the weather west forecasted larger receipts and offerings were fairly liberal for that reason. Exports amounted to 2,034,000 bushels for two days. May opened 14c lower, at 23%c, sold at 231/2c and closed at 241/8c. Just a fair business was transacted in oats. The market was firm, entirely a matter of sympathy with wheat. At the opening the tendency was toward weakness, but that disposition was soon nipped, as wheat did its high kicking act, and prices held firm for the rest of the session. May opened a shade lower, at 161/2c, sold at 163/2c, and advanced to 17c, where it

Provisions were only moderately active and advanced principally on account of the extreme bullishness in wheat. Packers had lard for sale every time it advanced over Thursday's price, the result being that it failed to keep the pace with pork and ribs. At the close May pork was about 10c higher, at $8.471/2@8.50; May lard, 2½c higher, at $4.32½, and May ribs about 7½c higher, at $4.75@4.77½. ST. LOUIS. April 17.—Flour dull and strong at unchanged. Wheat—There was a regula old-time bull market at the opening to-day and for a while things were very interesting. There was a rush of shorts to cover and considerable buying by the regular bulls. There were no cables, but all domestic markets were higher. When the market got up about call price there was considerable business done, but the rush to realize caused a slight reaction. July, the active menth, opened strong at 73%c, 166%c lower than the close on Thursday, but the market became wild and there was such a scramble to buy that it shot quickly up to 76c. Here there was some heavy realizing and it settled down to 75%c, but was quickly bid up again to 75%c and fit tuated slowly between that price and 751/2c until call, finally closing at 77%c, an advance of 3%@ 354c over Thursday. May and September were not mentioned before call. May wheat was of-up to 90%c, closing at that. August sold up to 412c and closed there. September opened at 75%c, and closed at 75%c, nominal. The sample market was quiet but strong, and "dollar wheat" was again realized in the sample corner, but buyers were slow about paying the advance asked. Some choice red winter wheat sold for malting purposes at $1, but this was hardly a fair criterion. No. 2 red, cash, elevator, 93c bid; track, 99c@$1; May, 90½c bid; July, 77%c; August, 74½c.
